OUR SERVICE

Bring your long-standing security system back to life with our intruder alarm takeover service.

If you own an outdated intruder alarm system or have acquired a property with one, we can assess the system, advise on upgrades, and take over the ongoing maintenance and monitoring contract. A comprehensive and effective security system is one of the best investments you can make for your current and ongoing security.

With one simple visit, our knowledgeable engineer team can review the effectiveness of the existing system. This will highlight the suitability and provide you with our recommendations for any improvements. On the rare occasion that the system is not fit to function going forward or is not compliant with current standards, we can provide guidance on an appropriate upgrade.

We are experienced with an extensive range of intruder alarm manufacturers, complex systems, and unique software.
