

Enjoy the advantage
of seeing every person or vehicle
requesting to enter
or exit your property
with a bespoke video
entry system

OUR SERVICE

Making access control more than just voice verification with the addition of a video entry system.

Video entry takes your access control system one step further with entry only being admitted after visible confirmation, giving you an additional line of security. We install a vast array of video entry systems all designed to be highly intuitive, reliable, and cutting edge.

Your security requirements will be unique. We build an individualised response, looking at every required component, how they will complement existing security measures, and how they can link to current installations, such as gates and barriers. Finally, we ensure the system fits aesthetically with your property's surroundings.

We can offer a range of smart systems which provide different levels of functionality, including an entry interface, ring all or specified handset functions, as well as mobile phone or digital device compatibility.
